How to use these prompts

Each day is a single paragraph with everything inside it — scene, your clothing, your expression, the colours, and the exact title text to print on the cover. Just copy one paragraph and paste it in.

- 1 Use a tool that writes text well. For the title to come out spelled correctly, use Ideogram, Google Gemini / Imagen, or ChatGPT (DALL-E) — these are the strongest at rendering words inside an image. Midjourney makes beautiful photos but its text is less reliable, so prefer the others for these covers.
- 2 Set it to vertical. Choose a 9:16 / 1080×1920 portrait size. The paragraph already asks for 9:16, but setting it in the tool guarantees the shape. In Midjourney, add `--ar 9:16 --style raw` at the end.
- 3 Keep it the same you, every day. Upload one clear photo of yourself and tell the tool “keep this exact person and face”. That’s what makes all 30 covers look like one consistent series. The build is written as a realistic beginner on purpose — that’s your story.
- 4 If the text comes out wrong, just re-generate once or twice — text tools often nail it on the second try. You can also shorten the title in the prompt (e.g. change the words inside the quotation marks) if a long line keeps breaking.

Signature egg days are 1, 8, 15, 22, 30. Their prompts use the bolder “event” look and the raw-egg motif on purpose — keep that style only for those five so the egg stays special, exactly like your plan.

Want to tweak a day? Everything is editable right inside the paragraph — swap the clothing words, change the expression, or edit the words inside the “quotation marks” to change the printed title. The plain-text file makes this easy on your phone.

Vertical 9:16 Instagram Reel cover photo, portrait orientation. A clean split-screen composition divided down the middle showing the SAME late-20s Indian man with a lean, beginner-level build (slim, not muscular — a realistic fitness beginner), short neat black hair and light stubble. On the LEFT he is the office version, wearing a crisp light-blue slim-fit formal shirt with sleeves rolled to the forearms, charcoal trousers and black-framed glasses, standing tired but determined in a dim early-morning office with a set jaw and serious eyes. Colour palette of deep navy blue, bright sunrise orange and teal; dim cool light on the left and warm sunrise light on the right; cinematic, high-contrast, sharp focus, shallow depth of field, photorealistic and scroll-stopping. Include bold, perfectly-spelled text rendered directly in the image as a clean graphic overlay: the large words "DAY 01" in bright sunrise-orange at the top centre of the frame, with "FIXING MY LIFE" in bold white just below it, in a thick modern sans-serif font (Poppins or Montserrat style), high-contrast and easy to read, placed in a clear empty area so it never covers the face and stays within the central safe zone. Vertical 9:16 Instagram Reel cover photo, portrait orientation. A late-20s Indian man with a lean, beginner-level build (slim, not muscular — a realistic fitness beginner), short neat black hair and light stubble, wearing a light chambray shirt worn open over a plain t-shirt (smart-casual), with a wry honest knowing half-smile, playfully juggling three objects mid-air labelled GYM (a dumbbell), JOB (a laptop) and LIFE (a phone), one of them slipping from his grasp. Colour palette of violet, teal and orange; clean studio lighting; cinematic, high-contrast, sharp focus, shallow depth of field, photorealistic and scroll-stopping. Include bold, perfectly-spelled text rendered directly in the image as a clean graphic overlay: the large words "DAY 26" in white at the top of the frame, with "YOU CAN'T DO IT ALL" in bold white just below it, in a thick modern sans-serif font (Poppins or Montserrat style), high-contrast and easy to read, placed in a clear empty area so it never covers the face and stays within the central safe zone. Ultra-detailed, 9:16 vertical aspect ratio.
