

30-DAY INSTAGRAM REELS PLAN

The IT Guy Who Fixed His Life.

A day-by-day content system for a software engineer building a fitness + discipline brand — without copying anyone, and without risking your account.

Niche: IT office life × gym × diet × discipline • Format: vertical Reels, 9:16 • Cadence: ~5-6/week

Built for @mahe_r.eddits • 30 reels, fully scripted

— How to use this plan

Read this page once before you shoot a single clip. It keeps your content consistent and your account alive.

Your signature opener (the raw egg)

- Your hook — drink a raw egg + hold a weird intense face, then hard-cut into the reel — is your brand. People will start recognising it instantly (this is exactly how Ashton Hall used his blue water bottle).
- Don't use it on every single reel. Identical openings on back-to-back posts can flatten reach. Use it on the cornerstone / episode-launch days (marked ★ SIGNATURE OPENER: Days 1, 8, 15, 22, 30) and give the others fresh hooks. That way it stays special and the "egg days" feel like events.
- Quick safety note: a real raw egg occasionally is your call, but you can also fake-sip or swap to a protein shake for the bit — the weird-face cut is what people remember, not the egg itself.

Videography (phone is enough)

- Shoot vertical 9:16, 4K, 60fps. Use a cheap tripod + phone gimbal for smooth motion.
- Natural light only — face a window; shoot gym/outdoor at sunrise or golden hour.
- Hook in 1–2 seconds, fast jump cuts, cut all dead air. Edit in CapCut or InShot (free).
- Text in the safe zone: keep ~108px clear at top and ~320px at the bottom so Instagram's buttons don't cover your captions. Bold sans-serif (Poppins / Montserrat), high contrast.
- Batch shoot. Film 3–4 reels in one session, edit through the week.

Account safety + copyright (read carefully)

- Audio: use your own original voiceover first, or Instagram's in-app Sound Collection. These are the safe choices in 2026.
- Never rip trending songs or pull audio from other people's Reels/TikToks — Instagram's system now detects music even at low volume and will quietly kill your reach (no warning).
- Never repost downloaded or watermarked videos as your own.
- Use a Creator account (not Business) for the widest safe music access. Skip bots, follow/unfollow tools, and engagement pods entirely — they are the fastest route to a ban.
- The Ashton-style content was original footage + a recurring signature — copy the structure, never the clips.

Growth habits (do these for all 30)

- Post 5–6 reels/week. Consistency beats perfection.
- Reply to every comment in the first hour — early engagement drives reach.
- Use 4–6 hashtags (mix niche + broad), not 30.
- Repurpose each reel to YouTube Shorts — same effort, triple reach.
- The whole month is one story arc (Day 1 → Day 30 reveal). Tell people to follow for the ending.

— The 30-Day Schedule

Each reel below is fully scripted: hook, shot list, on-screen text, audio, caption, hashtags, and call-to-action. Just record and post.

WEEK 1 — THE RESET

Establish the character, the routine, and prove you'll show up.

DAY 01

Day 1 of fixing my life as an IT guy

ROUTINE

★ SIGNATURE OPENER

HOOK (first 1–2 sec)	SIGNATURE OPENER: crack a raw egg into a glass, drink it in one go, hold a dead-serious intense face for 1 sec → hard cut to a bold "Day 1." title card.
SHOT LIST (record these)	• 5:30 AM alarm glowing in the dark • Hand reaching for phone, then pushing it away (no snooze) • Feet hitting the floor • Splashing face with water at the sink • The raw-egg signature shot • Lacing up shoes by the door • Wide silhouette walking out at first light
ON-SCREEN TEXT	Day 1. 5:30 AM. No more excuses. 9-hour IT job. No time? Wrong.
AUDIO	Original voiceover (calm, determined: "Everyone says software guys can't stay fit. Watch me prove them wrong.") + a soft cinematic instrumental from Instagram's in-app library.
CAPTION	Day 1 of getting my life together as a software engineer. 30 days. Gym, diet, discipline — around a full-time IT job. If I can do it between standups and sprints, so can you.

CTA	→ Follow for all 30 days — day 30 is the reveal.

DAY 02

What I eat in a day as an IT employee (budget edition)

DIET

HOOK (first 1–2 sec)	Open mid-action: a spoon stirring oats in slow-mo, close-up, then quick pull-back to you eating at your desk before logging in.
SHOT LIST (record these)	• Overnight oats / boiled eggs being plated • Coffee being poured • Lunchbox being packed (rice, dal, chicken/paneer, salad) • Mid-day desk snack (nuts, fruit) • Evening protein shake • Each meal labelled with a quick text tag

Final tip: Don’t aim for perfect — aim for posted. The account that wins is the one that shows up daily for the whole arc. After Day 30, start a new 30-day series (next goal, next challenge) so your audience always has a reason to keep following. — Your Instagram plan, built for @mahe_r.eddits.
